JURISDICTION

1. The authority for this motion is Rule 60 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and Rule 9024 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure and Rule 59 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and Rule 9023 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure. The Bankruptcy Court has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. Section 1334 and 157. This is a core proceeding under 28 U.S.C. Section 157(b)(2)(A).

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

2. The debtor filed this case on March 2, 2015. The case was dismissed on March 18, 2015 pursuant to the standard Order: Possible Future Dismissal of Case filed in this case on March 3, 2015 (Document No. 5).

3. The particular deficiency on which the dismissal is based is the filing of creditor matrix.

4. The debtor filed this case pro se. The debtor believed that the creditor matrix was due in fourteen days when the schedules and statements were due.

5. On March 16, 2015, the debtor went to the Clerk's intake office and filed the Debtor's Payment Advices or Certification (Document No. 9), the Statement of Social Security Number (Document No. 10), the Statistical Summary of Certain Liabilities (Document No. 11), Summary of Schedules and Schedules A thru J (Document No. 12) and the Statement of Financial Affairs (Document No. 13). On March 17, 2015, the debtor went to the Clerk's intake office and filed the Chapter 13 Statement of Your Current Monthly Income and Calculation of Commitment Period (Document No. 15).

6. The debtor filed the creditor matrix with the Clerk of Court on either March 16th or March 17th when she filed the other documents. The debtor does not recall the exact date because she was not given a file stamped receipt for the filing. However, the Docket Sheet for this case reflects that the creditor mailing list was uploaded on March 18, 2015. The debtor believes, and so believing alleges, that she filed the creditor mailing matrix with the Clerk of the Court before the dismissal order was entered on March 18, 2015. The docket sheet reflects that the mailing matrix was uploaded by the Clerk on March 18, 2015 but apparently after the order of dismissal was entered.

REQUEST FOR EXPEDITED CONSIDERATION

7. The debtor is currently a defendant in a pending lawsuit to partition non-exempt real property. A bankruptcy court has jurisdiction over such a proceeding pursuant to 11 U.S.C. Section 363. The debtor disputes the interest of the alleged co-tenant and the debtor needs to resolve the status of her bankruptcy filing so as to be able to proceed in the appropriate legal forum to determine the interests of the parties in the real property.

RELIEF REQUESTED

8. The debtor, acting then as pro se, had a good faith belief that she timely complied with the filing of the required documents including the creditor mailing matrix. The debtor actually filed the creditor mailing matrix before the case was dismissed but it was not uploaded until after the case was dismissed. Indeed, the creditor mailing matrix was uploaded on the same day the case was dismissed.

9. Rule 59 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, as made applicable by Rule 9023 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, grants bankruptcy courts discretion to alter or amend an order or judgment. In exercising its discretion, the courts can consider whether reconsideration is necessary to correct manifest errors of law or fact upon which the order is based.

10. In this instance, the debtor has presented a reasonable explanation of the circumstances surrounding the dismissal of her bankruptcy case. Furthermore, she is now in compliance with the standard Order: Possible Future Dismissal of Case filed in this case on March 3, 2015 (Document No. 5).

11. Rule 60(b)(1) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, as made applicable by Bankruptcy Rule 9024, provides that the court may relieve a party of a final order for inadvertence or excusable neglect.

12. As a pro se debtor, she was under the mistaken belief that when she filed the creditor mailing matrix it would be docketed before the case was subject to automatic dismissal. The debtor attempted to comply with the courts standard order but she did not fully understand the proper way to document the filing of the creditor mailing matrix.

13. Therefore, the debtor alleges that her actions in this regard were inadvertent and that the failure to timely file the creditor mailing matrix was excusable neglect.

14. The debtor believes, and so believing alleges, that it is in the best interests of the debtor, creditors and parties in interest to continue in this Chapter 13 case. The debtor further believes, and so believing alleges, that her creditors have not acted to their detriment on the reliance that his case has been dismissed.

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, the debtor prays that the Court vacate the Order of Dismissal entered on March 18, 2015 in Document Number 14 and for such other relief as is just.

Respectfully submitted,
